Fantasy Book Report

Due: _____ (can get an extension until _____)

You have recently finished an exciting book full of fantasy/magic/imaginary things. For this assignment, you will be illustrating the main parts of your story by turning it into a comic strip.

Directions:

1. You will create a comic strip with a minimum of 9 frames (boxes).

2. You must fill at least 1 page of drawing paper (9x12). You can get this in the classroom.

3. At the top of each frame there should be a 1-2 sentence summary of what is happening in this scene.

4. Each frame should also have a background, at least one character and a speech bubble.

5. The first 3 frames should illustrate the beginning of the story: establishing the problem.

6. The second 3 frames should illustrate the middle of the story: the steps moving towards the climax.

7. The last 3 frames should illustrate the end of the story: the climax and the conflict resolution.

8. Be creative! Your characters should have a look that illustrates the characters' personalities-they do not need to look how they are described in the book.

9. Do NOT add things that do not happen in your book.

10. Come up with a name for your comic and put it at the top. Have some fun with it. Be sure to include your name, the title of the book and the author too at the bottom of the page.

11. You may use crayons, markers, paint, colored pencils or the computer to create your comic. You must use color!

Note: If you use the computer, the illustrations must be your own, not copied from the internet.
